

Freitag, 10. November 2017,
11.15 – 12.45 Uhr

Universitätshauptgebäude,
Universitätsplatz, HS 218

Organizer: Prof. Dr. Gabriele Linke,
Institut für Anglistik und Amerikanistik
(gabriele.linke@uni-rostock.de)

Lecture Series "Canada 150"

Invitation to the 4th lecture, by

Katja Sarkowsky

(Universität Münster)

"Seven Hills of Life":

Indigenous Life Writing in Canada

The agenda of this lecture is twofold: It will provide an overview of the crucial questions regarding Indigenous life writing in Canada, namely the relationship between orality and writing, narrative conventions, and the relationship between the individual and the community. In the light of this, it will look in more detail at recent publications such as One Native Life (2009) by renowned novelist Richard Wagamese and The Reason You Walk (2015) by journalist and Manitoba politician Wab Kinew.

